BIG WILSON PARADE

DEMOCRATS MAKE CREDITABLE TURNOUT WITH AUTOS AND MARCHERS

As the culmination of the Wilson demonstration of which the High school proceedings Friday morning were the prologue a goodly number of Democrats assembled in front of the High school Friday afternoon and were marshaled into line by Clem Moore, marshal of the day. There were about thirty-five autos in line driven by enthusiastic admirers of the president of the United States.

Kenneth Beldin, chairman of the High school committee that organized the parade was ubiquitous. In the official auto he was everywhere directing and aiding. The Glendale Municipal band came after the marshal and played inspiring music along the whole route of the parade, which went out as far as Mountain street in the foothills district and thence down Central to Tropico and back north on Brand to Broadway and Louise to the High school.

The Woman's Suffrage division was headed by an automobile in which were Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. Freeman Kelly and Mrs. Harlan.

The most prominent feature in the parade was the peace float in a car belonging to Mrs. Ella W. Richardson who was seated beside her son, who, dressed as Uncle Sam, drove the auto. In this car also was Mrs. Harlan, Jr., who was dressed as the Goddess of Liberty. Mrs. Charles Grist also occupied this car. This car was followed by a nice looking detachment of young High school girls.

The Eight Hour Law division consisting of a number of High school boys in blue overalls who carried banners with the inscription "Eight Hours Work, Eight Hours Sleep and Eight Hours Play." This division was under the charge of Will Gower.

A large section of children represented the Child Labor Law and was in charge of Miss Lorraine Mitchell and Gilbert Mitchell.

Clem Moore did excellent work in getting the parade in line and led the way in good style. Carleton West and Will Balthis were the mounted aides of the marshal and did their duty in a most efficient manner.

Some of the mottoes on the banners were as follows: "We stand for America first, last and all the time—Wilson is the answer."

"Why are so many great leaders of the Progressive party out for Wilson? There's a Reason."

"Hughes Don't Like Wilson's Policies. But What Are Hughes' Policies?"

In every way the parade was a success and reflects great credit on those who organized it. As an indication of what the sentiment of the school may be in political matters the meeting Friday morning and the parade are not an indication of how matters stand. It is likely that some kind of a vote will be taken next week that will be a fair indication. It remains for the Republicans to have their speakers at the school and their parade and it will then be possible to compare them.

Kenneth Beldin is deserving of considerable credit for his work in connection with the morning address and the afternoon parade, both affairs showed organization and efficient maangement.

TO LECTURE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Dr. Henry R. Harrower, who recently came to reside in Glendale and has his medical headquarters in Los Angeles, is to lecture in the High school Tuesday morning, October 31, at 9 o'clock, in connection with the Science classes. Dr. Harrower is a Fellow of the Royal College of Medicine, London, England. This is one of the best medical institutions in the world. There are only fifteen members of the Royal College of Medicine in the United States and Dr. Harrower is the only one in California. Through the influence of Professor Houdyshel of the High school, Dr. Harrower has consented to deliver a course of three lectures at the school. The first will be on "Physiological Chemistry;" the second on "The Influence of the Emotions On Disease" and the third on the "Internal Secretions."

TO ENTERTAIN DR. GREGG

The city trustees of Glendale and the officials of the Glendale Garden society are planning to entertain Dr. J. W. Gregg at a dinner to be given at Hotel Gray at 6 o'clock next Thursday evening. Following the dinner Dr. Gregg will give his public stereopticon lecture on Public Parks and Playgrounds at the High school auditorium.

CURRENT EVENTS

TO STUDY ITALIAN OPERA—TROPICO LADIES TELL OF SUMMER TRAVELS

MRS. LYNDE NEW INSTRUCTOR

She Music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club met at the home of the curator, Mrs. E. W. Kinney. It was decided to postpone the annual Christmas charity tea for the children's hospital and maternity cottage until March as there are so many other affairs being given just at this time. The Music section is the only organization in Glendale that gives aid to these two institutions. This really is local charity work as these institutions are open to Glendale people free of charge, four Glendale women having been cared for at the maternity cottage the past year. As this touches a field no other organization handles the ladies of the Music section are planning something big for their annual charity affair.

Ethel Graham Lynde has been secured by the section as instructor for the coming year. Mrs. Lynde has worked in the Los Angeles Ebell club for a long time and is a very fine instructor. The section will study Italian opera and the first lesson will be given November 10. Members are reminded to bring pencils and notebooks.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

The Thursday Afternoon club of Tropico, Art and Travel section, met at the home of Mrs. Kimberly, 345 San Fernando road, Thursday, October 26. This was a meeting at which each member was expected to give a brief account of one day, the most enjoyable day in the summer vacation. A number of the ladies gave interesting accounts of their experiences. Mrs. Kimberly gave a most interesting account of her trip by auto to Davenport, Ia. They went from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City; thence along the highway to Omaha; thence by the White Pole road to Des Moines and by the river road to Davenport, returning by Omaha, Denver and the old Sante Fe trail.

Mrs. Ella W. Richardson told of a day at the United Shoe Machinery company's factory at Beverly, Mass. Others told of trips to the Yosemite, and to various big cities throughout the middle west and the east. Those present were: Mrs. H. H. Davenport, Mrs. Thomas Gaither, Mrs. A. J. Becker, Mrs. C. H. Phillips, Mrs. E. Virden, Mrs. G. Henry, Mrs. W. H. Fleming, Mrs. H. R. Bowman, Mrs. A. E. Boyce, Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. Brezee, Mrs. O. E. Clement and the hostess, Mrs. Kimberly.

DR. J. W. GREGG

Glendale is making ready to honor the famous Dr. J. W. Gregg of the University of California, revered and beloved by thousands who comes on next Thursday to give a stereopticon talk on Public Parks and Playgrounds—their moral and esthetic value to the community. This wonderful lecture is free to the public. It is believed there will be a packed house. Seldom has Glendale had such an opportunity of welcoming to their city an educator so celebrated and universally esteemed. Remember the time and place, High school auditorium, Thursday evening November 2 at 8 o'clock sharp. The Garden society under whose auspices this lecture has been arranged, is preparing to signalize this unusual event by presenting a gift to every adult present that night. Admission free.

PUBLICITY PHOTOS

Mrs. Nanno Woods again asks the residents of Glendale to procure and send her sharp, distinct photographs of pretty places in Glendale, photos of houses, back or front yards, arbors, winding walks, pergolas, fountains or bird bath effects, or cute pictures of children in the open.

Mrs. Woods is steadily and untiringly working for the good of Glendale. She has opportunities of placing magazine articles dealing with Glendale, the publication of which cannot fail to advertise Glendale to a large extent. She hopes to have in a short time a collection of at least 100 photographs of homes, beauty spots and healthy happy youngsters of Glendale. With this collection in hand, she hopes then to interest the city trustees to the extent that they will have these photos made into colored slides. Then Mrs. Woods will be ready to advertise Glendale far and wide by stereopticon lectures.

The advisory council of the Tuesday afternoon club is called to meet at 3 o'clock Monday at the home of the president, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, 101 South Brand Boulevard. Note the change of hour.

REPUBLICANS HAVE CAMPAIGN FUND OF $1,600,000—DEMOCRATS HAVE $1,000,000

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NE WYORK, Oct. 28.—As the presidential fight nears its close the spending of the rival campaign funds goes merrily on. The Democrats are credited with having a fund of $1,000,000; while their opponents have at least $1,600,000 at their command.

MEXICAN BANDIT IS GRADUALLY GATHERING A HANDY ARMY TO DEAL WITH CARRANZA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, Oct. 28.—Villa is gradually getting together a very handy army. Men who have fought all through the past years of war are flocking to the colors of the famous bandit and leader. ADVANCE NORTHEAST OF DOUAUMONT

GERMAN COUNTER ATTACKS ON RECENT FRENCH GAINS REPULSED WITH SEVERE LOSS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The Germans made several violent attacks on the ground and positions recently taken from them by the troops of General Nivelle. They sent forward to the attack strong corps but these were stopped effectually by the French curtain of fire and lost two-thirds of their number. The fighting was especially severe in the Houdremont ravine. Douaumont fort was also attacked. There the French not only repelled the Germans but drove them out of the trenches from which they were attacking. Positions northeast of Douaumont fell into the hands of the French.

BRITISH DEFEAT GERMAN TORPEDO FLEET

TEUTONS ATTEMPT RAID ON BRITISH TRANSPORTS BUT FAIL, LOSING TWO OF THEIR NUMBER

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The German dash with a torpedo destroyer squadron into the English channel was a complete failure. The Germans evidently sought to interfere with the transport of British troops to France. They were driven off with the loss of two of their number. One of the British destroyers ran ashore and one is still missing. After a brief engagement the Germans turned and fled. The heavy fog in the channel is favorable to such attacks.

NORWAY AND GERMANY CLOSE TO WAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—There is danger of an immediate breach between Norway and Germany. The constant sinking of Norweigian merchant ships was emphasized during the past twenty-four hours during which the German submarines sank nine Norwegian ships. The indignation in Norway is at fever heat and there is likely to be strong action against Germany before long.

RUSSIANS PREPARE BIG DRIVE IN POLAND

SLAVS DETERMINE TO RELIEVE HEAVY GERMAN PRESSURE ON ROUMANIAN ARMIES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Wireless messages from Rome state that the Russians are preparing a tremendous offensive in Poland in order to relieve the heavy Teutonic pressure on the Russo-Roumanian troops in Transylvania and the Dobrudja. The new offensive will start both in Poland and Galicia and will be pressed with all the force of the new forces that Russia is sending to the front. Meanwhile the Germans are seeking to push forward both jaws of the mighty pincers with which they hope to crush the Roumanians, before winter stops all movements.

KAISER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

IMPERIAL TRAIN IN COLLISION — ENGINEER KILLED — SEVERAL CARS SMASHED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Kaiser Wilhelm had a narrow escape from death yesterday when the special Imperial train in which he was traveling between the eastern and the western front ran into a freight or commissariat train. The kaiser's engineer was killed and several of the cars of the Imperial train were derailed. Beyond a shaking up the Kaiser sustained no injury.

CIVIC SECTION MEETS

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB LADIES SELECT NOV. 11 FOR TREE PLANTING DAY

The object of the civic section of the Tuesday afternoon club is to promote efforts along all lines of civic culture and to assist all public officials, such as police, fire department, city manager, city forrester and teachers in our public schools and to co-operate with same to secure a public park, playgrounds and swimming pool and all other improvements that will elevate citizenship.

The slogan of this section is to plant and cherish trees and the preservation of our wild flowers.

Mr. T. W. Watson gave an instructive talk before the civic section Tuesday afternoon in which he advocated co-operation between every citizen and the city officials, whose aim it is to serve the needs of the city.

Mr. Watson also explained the provisions of the city to take care of garbage and tin cans without any cost to the individual.

Receptacles for waste paper have been placed in different places, others will be supplied wherever needed if notified.

Mr. Watson also spoke of the ordinance against throwing paper in streets and on vacant lots. The civic section is urged to help enforce this ordinance by educating the people to carry paper to their homes instead of thoughtlessly throwing it on the street.

November 11 has been set aside as tree planting day in the district bounded by Broadway, Central Ave., and the city limits on the west and south.

The city will furnish five hundred black acacia trees, which will be planted on that day without cost to the property owner.

Men, women, boys and girls helping in this splended work will meet at the Pacific avenue school where a time card will be given each so it will be known how many hours were required to accomplish the work.

Anyone wishing to plant other trees than black acacia are at liberty to make their own choice.

Every street in Glendale will have its tree planting day.

The property owners of each street have a right to agree upon some certain tree.

If citizens of each street will do this without a mass meeting held by the civic section, it will greatly facilitate the work of the civic section of the Tuesday Afternoon club.

BIG BOOSTER DAY

NOVEMBER 1 IMPORTANT DAY FOR EVENING NEWS—CO-OPERATION ASKED

For more than three years The Evening News has been accepting and publishing free of charge announcements whose purpose has been to boost clubs, schools and churches of the Glendale community, and now the management of The News feels sure that thousands of people who are members of these various organizations will take pleasure in adding to the success of The Evening News booster day which takes place November 1.

The Evening News is a Glendale community publication and while it is impossible for it to give the general news of the world as do the large city papers, yet it does publish much matter that is of vital interest to the local community, and that does not receive any attention in the city papers. The columns of The Evening News are always open to give publicity to all reasonable announcements that are for the upbuilding of institutions of our city.

The greater success of the paper as a community builder requires the co-operation of the citizens of Glendale, and Wednesday, November 1 has been designated as the time when all friends of The Evening News may work together in persuading residents of Glendale who are not receiving the paper to become subscribers. Persons who can find it convenient to pay subscriptions on or before that date will be adding greatly to the success of booster day. Thus far the remittances made and the promises of cooperation on booster day are very encouraging.

PACKER AT ANTELOPE VALLEY FAIR IN LANCASTER

Friday a large delegation of citizens of Lancaster and other towns in Antelope valley in attendance at the fair at Lancaster called on Stephen C. Packer, candidate for supervisor in the Fifth district and gave him a rousing reception. The delegation was very enthusiastic with reference to Mr. Packer's candidacy, and all of those present pledged their support at the coming election November 7, believing that Mr. Packer's qualifications best fit him for the office of supervisor for the Fifth district.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

The Epworth League of the First Methodist church held a Hallowe'en social in the parlors of the First Methodist church Friday evening. There was a large attendance. The social was in the form of a masquerade and everybody had a good time. Miss Helen Schwarze, vice president of the social department of the Epworth League was in charge. Games and Hallowe'en refreshments helped to make a merry evening. Short addresses were given by the Rev. B. D. Snudden, pastor of the church and by Herbert Matthiesen, president of the Epworth League.

UNITY OF THE NATIONS

That the world has taken a step in advance toward the unity of the whole human race is the opinion and teaching of Sir Rabindranath Tagore, the famous poet of India, who recently won the Nobel literature prize. Tagore was recently in Los Angeles, lecturing in order to get money for the erection and endowment of his school for boys, where he hopes to teach and train students who will go forth on a mission of union over the whole world.

Those who have read Tagore's "The Voice of India" understand the sweet spirit of reasonableness that pervades his whole philosophy. He has emphasized in his poems the great fact that Jesus of Nazareth preached almost two thousand years ago: that the children of this earth are children of a common father and as members of one family should be one in everything. The leavening force thus sown by Christ was not long in leavening the world, and that great force is still powerfully drawing all the nations of the earth together.

Those who deplore the war in Europe might perhaps take a different view of that terrific upheaval and its consequences could they witness the upgrowth of a world-wide brotherhood that is being wrought out in the stricken fields of Europe. The concourse of nations in Jerusalem at the famous feast of Pentecost, when the outpouring of the Spirit had such wonderful effects, was not half so diverse as is the gathering of the nations on the banks of the Somme and in ancient Macedonia.

These nations are learning to know and to understand each other by reason of the close communications they are forced to keep up. The Greek sailors and the British and French sailors fraternized the other day at the Piraeus of their own accord. They recognized that they all were good fellows. The Servians rescued and rehabilitated by the British after their terrible experiences in the over-running of their country by warlike hosts learned to play football and to beat their teachers, to their great delight. Language is no barrier to the better understanding of the nations and it is safe to say that when the war is over all the nations will find that they have acquired vast additions to their vocabularies.

In fact, the great war is a great world movement that under divine providence may yet work out better things for the world than the world understands at present. This war is, according to the Hindoo philosopher, Tagore, a process of action and reaction. It is merely the negative side of the tendency of the age. It is the expression of the restlessness of men's minds. It is the inevitable friction resulting from many nations coming in close contact for the first time. It is the world awakening. There is struggle, confusion and darkness at first, but soon there will be unity, peace and light.

Many of the elements that led to the war are material elements, according to Tagore. Civilization has evolved a great machine. It pursues its creators like a modern Frankenstein, and devours them. This materialism of the world, however, is eventually to fall by its own weight and the world to enter on an era of moral and spiritual development unprecedented in its history.

Tagore is undoubtedly right. He is removed sufficiently from the heated arena of war to be able to give an unbiased opinion, and his well-balanced thoughts are worthy of the most profound consideration.

FUTURE OF BRITISH WEST INDIES

Just at present the United States is profoundly interested in the West Indies by reason of its desire to acquire the Danish West Indiea Islands. Those islands have been a bone of contention for years and they would be better in the possession of the United States than they are at present. However the German element in Denmark, which prevented the sale of the islands to this country long ago is still at work and they have not yet come to be American.

It is significant, however, that Canada is now taking an interest in the West Indian Islands that has not been part of her policy hitherto. Canada stimulated by the United States' desire to acquire the Danish West Indies is now anxious to obtain the Bermudas and the other British West Indian possessions. The next step would be the addition of British Honduras and British Guiana to Canada and the consolidation of the whole territory under Canadian rule.

Without doubt the annexation would be a great boon to the islands just as the annexation of the Danish West Indies to the United States would awaken those islands out of their lethargy and give them a share of the enormous prosperity that the island of Porto Rico is now enjoying.

There is a large and influential body of men in Canada who from mixed economic, idealistic and patriotic motives are anxious to see the islands part and parcel of Canada. The West Indian planters also are anxious to have a market on the mainland. When slavery was abolished in the British possessions by the British government in the beginning of the nineteenth century the planter's business was ruined. He no longer had the cheap labor which made his sugar planting profitable and British free trade threw his business into the open market to compete with the heavily protected sugar of other lands. That completed the ruin of the sugar planter and the once flourishing islands, whence such men as W. E. Gladstone got the greater part of their money, became a mere desert, living from hand to mouth.

Under Canadian management the islands would have a market for their product. Their cities would increase and extend and there would be a marked growth of the number of buyers of the coming period.

After the war in Europe is over there will undoubtedly be a vast stimulation of business all over the world. The competition will be great. The British empire and its dominations over the sea are determined to meet competition with competition and this consolidation of the British possessions in North America is a step in that direction.

Imperial federation is in the air. The war has drawn different units of the vast empire more closely together than they have ever been and as the first indication of the reconstruction and redivision of the empire comes this talk of the consolidation of British possessions in North America.

Canada alone of all the dominions of the empire has had no chance to annex any territory through the war, yet she has played a most able part in the great conflict, having sent already more than 500,000 soldiers to aid in fighting the battles of the empire.

There is but one real scientific way to refract the astigmatic defects of the eye. That is with this new instrument, which is absolute in its findings.

The guests were all ladies of high standing in the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star in California, the guest of honor having held three offices in the Grand Chapter and the hostess being a Past Deputy Grand Matron. Covers were laid for nine at a table centered with a bowl of violets and maidenhair fern while the same blossoms adorned the snowy cloth. The ladies found their places by means of cards hand decorated with violets in the form of book markers.

After luncheon the guests repaired to parlors where huge chrysanthemums nodded from tall vases and where music and other forms of entertainment were enjoyed. Gorgeous autumn leaves were used to decorate the reception hall. HALLOWE'EN PARTY

One of the most enjoyable and interesting Hallowe'en parties of the season thus far was that given Friday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frazee, 1435 West Broadway. The hostesses were Margaret Frazee and Milicent Alvord. The affair was a Hallowe'en masquerade. All the guests came in costume. There was the usual allowance of knights and ladies, Colonial dames, kinds and queens and witches, and wizards, ghosts and Spanish senoritas. One of the amusements of the evening was the guessing of the names of the guests before they unmasked. This proved a comparatively easy task except in the case of Freeman Fowler, who was dressed as a little girl, with golden curls and modest white dress.

The young people enjoyed the usual Hallowe'en fare—pumpkin pies, toasted marshmallows and other dainties. The decorations were in the Hallowe'en colors, yellow and black. Fortune telling and various interesting games helped to amuse the guests, who were as follows: Josephine Van Sant, Mildred Swenson, Beatrice Hallyer, Lois Schuyler, Edith Schuyler, Dorothy Haig, Margaret Crawford, Dorothy Patterson, Dorothy Woods, Elizabeth Mottern, Eula May, Margaret Frazee, Agnes Thaxter and Fay Butler.

The boys were: Raymond Witt, Arvid Murman, Maxwell Price, Donald Price, Burdett Rockhold, Freeman Fowler, Tom Lyons, Andrew McDonald, Glen Moore, Raymond Cleland, Forrest Jordan, Valentine Hollingsworth, Jack Alvord, Robert Frazee, Claude Hennon, Albert Townsend and Frank McGillis.
